Download/stream the track HERE. and watch the music video HERE." "FEELS LIKE HOME" is the first of two new noteworthy collaborations the "sensational" (L'Officiel) Miller will unveil over the next month. The track sees Miller and Reyez joining forces for the first time on this memorable earworm that showcases both of their dynamic vocal talents that perfectly complement each other. With "FEELS LIKE HOME," Bea continues to demonstrate her commanding presence over a song, whether it be solo or alongside a vibrant contemporary like Jessie. Idolator noted Bea, "continues to surprise with each new release," and this is no exception. The music video for the track was directed by Phillip Soulliere, and co-directed by Bea Miller, a first for the multi-talented young artist. The clip follows parallel stories of a lesbian couple and a Polyamorous couple through various stages of their relationships, from the honeymoon phase, to inevitable conflict and ultimately the grand redemption of knowing it was all meant to be. "The video masterfully depicts perspectives on modern love, reflecting the sentiment of the song." Just last week, Miller shared another new music video for her track, "feel something," watch it here. "feel something" was the follow-up to, "it's not u it's me," her critically acclaimed collaboration with the Grammy-nominated artist black that has garnered over 25 million streams; watch the video here. Other notable collaborations include Jeremy Zucker's "comethru," and NOD's "I WANNA KNOW," which has over 189 million global streams and 17 million video views; watch it here. In this new phase of her evolving career, Bea continues to demonstrate her maturity as both artist and songwriter, while achieving worldwide streams in excess of over one billion. Paper Magazine stated, "Miller's songs take an optimistic but ferocious approach to how it feels and what it means to be a young woman in 2019." Bustle also commented Bea is "hitting her momentum in the music game," while Nylon noted, "like an ultraviolet ray, Miller's rise into 2019 can't be eclipsed." Bea's electric live performances have been lighting up the stages of numerous high-profile festivals, including Outside Lands, Osheaga and Lollapalooza, with forthcoming appearances at Bumbershoot, Voodoo and Life Is Beautiful. The U.S. leg of her extensive fall headlining "sunsets in outerspace" tour (with Kah-Lo supporting) kicks off October 6 in Austin, Texas.
